THE RITUALS OF REPENTANCE IN THE HAFTORAS OF THE THREE WEEKS

*Dr. Michelle Levine is a tenured associate professor of Bible in the Rebecca Ivry Department of Jewish Studies at Stern College for Women. She holds a BA (Summa cum Laude) from Brooklyn College, an MS in Bible from the Bernard Revel Graduate School of Jewish Studies, and a PhD in medieval biblical exegesis from New York University. She studied at Michlalah Teacher's College in Israel and is the author of: Nahmanides on Genesis: The Art of Biblical Portraiture. She has presented academic papers and has written articles on Tanakh and medieval parshanut, particularly on the commentary of Ramban. Dr. Levine lectures widely, and gives a popular weekly lecture series on Tanakh and Parshanut in Queens, NY.

SPONSORED BY THE SARAH ADELMAN
MEMORIAL FUND

The Sarah Adelman Memorial Fund supports programs and initiatives to help educate the community about dealing with psychological and social issues. Needy children in the St. Louis Jewish Orthodox community requiring counseling are supported by the fund.
