

Young Israel of St. Louis Presents

Rabbi Perry Tirschwell has recently assumed the position of Executive Director of the National Council of Young Israel. His mission is to make Young Israel a transformative force in Jewish life, focusing on Synagogues, Singles, Seniors, and Activism.

After inspiring teenagers in and out of the classroom in New Jersey for ten years, Rabbi Tirschwell served as the founding Head of School of the Weinbaum Yeshiva High School in Boca Raton for 15 years. Rabbi Tirschwell has returned to the New York area to take on this new challenge at the head of the National Council of Young Israel.

Rabbi Tirschwell is a graduate of Yeshivat Har Etzion; holds Rabbinic Ordination from RIETS / Yeshiva University, and an MA in School Administration.

He is very happily married to Miriam, a speech therapist in the public schools, and they have five daughters, ages 14-24
